Military Tuition Assistance (TA) and Career Advancement Account (MyCAA) Recipients

Announcement - Student Account Adjustments Necessary for TA/MyCAA Beginning Fall 2023

June 2023

Beginning Fall 2023, charges for instructional materials/textbooks are included in tuition charges at the colleges of the Alamo Colleges District as part of the AlamoBooks+ program. Because military Tuition Assistance (TA) and Military Spouse Career Advancement Account (MyCAA) funding are prohibited from being used for the purchase of instructional materials/textbooks, the Alamo Colleges District is required to identify, separate and disclose the amount of tuition associated with the purchase of instructional materials, textbooks, etc. See 32 CFR 68.6(a)(2)(ii)(D). The amount of tuition associated with the purchase of instructional materials/textbooks at the Alamo Colleges District is $19.00 per credit hour.

Because the Alamo Colleges District is unable to predict who will use military TA or MyCAA funding at the time of registration, once registered, student account balances for TA/MyCAA students will reflect the regular published tuition rates, which include charges for instructional materials/textbooks.

At the time TA/MyCAA funding is submitted by the student to the college as payment for tuition, a manual adjustment will be processed on the student account to separate charges associated with the purchase of instructional materials/textbooks and generate the balance not authorized for TA/MyCAA funding. This balance must be paid by the student through other funds such as out-of-pocket, student financial aid (Pell Grant), etc.

TA and MyCAA students should refer to the Alamo Colleges District 2023-24 Schedule of Tuition and Fees for the Department of Defense tuition rates. TA and MyCAA funding tuition rates have been adjusted to the correct amount authorized for TA/MyCAA funding. TA/MyCAA students are responsible for paying for the remaining balance for instructional materials/textbooks by other means.
